CAPPA Eagle license guide

Windows v1.1.0. Pay with NACKL or SHELL, or request a manual license.

> Screenshots use example wallets and amounts. Use the invoice shown in your own app when paying.

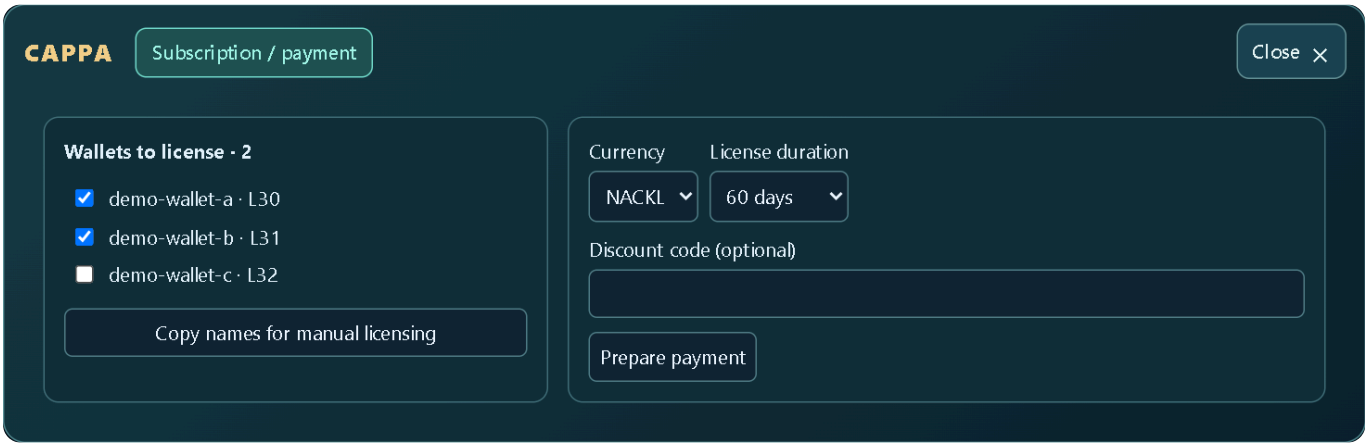

1. Open the license screen

Click the CAPPA logo in the upper-left corner. In the menu, select “Enter / Renew License” on the CAPPA license card. Open the “Subscription / payment” tab to pay.

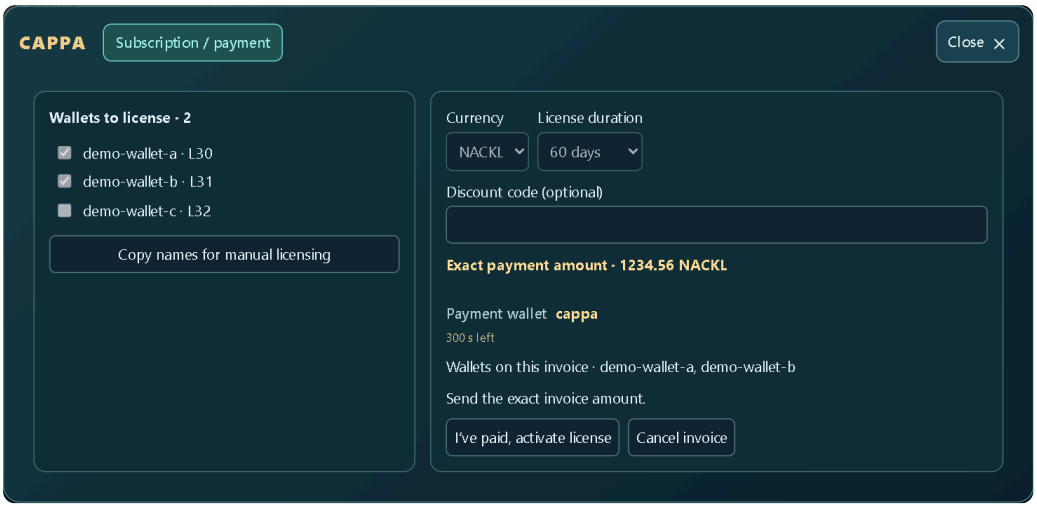

2. Choose wallets, currency and term

Tick the wallets you want to license. Unticking a wallet removes it from this invoice only. One invoice can cover up to 200 wallets. Choose NACKL or SHELL, then 30, 60, 90, 120, 150 or 180 days. After an automatic renewal, no wallet can have more than 180 days remaining. Enter a discount code if you have one and select “Prepare payment”.

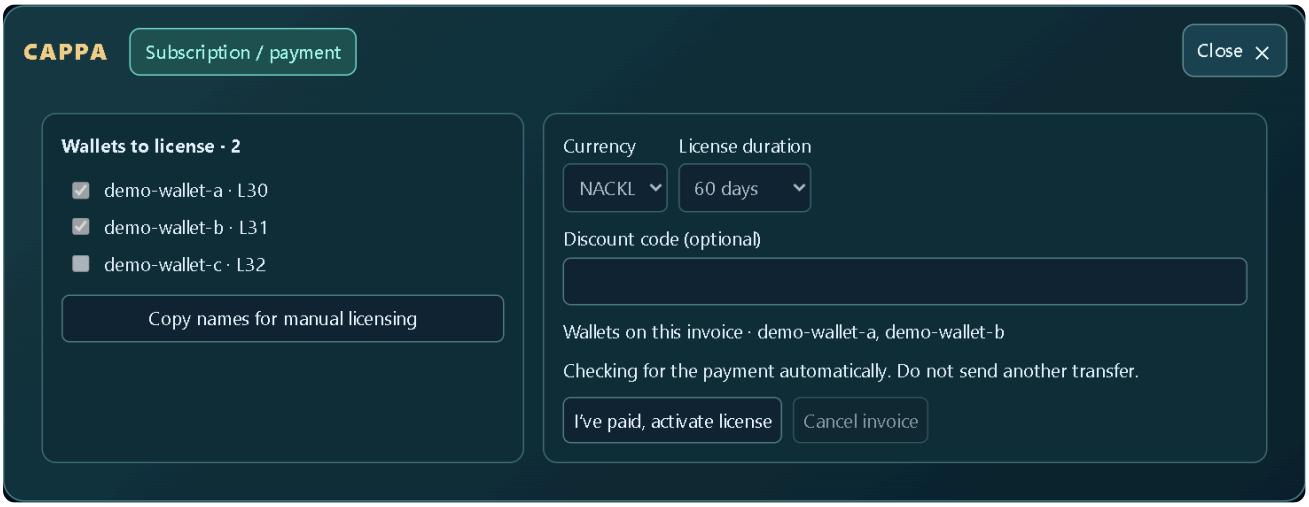

3. Send the exact invoice amount

Review the wallets, currency, recipient and exact amount on the invoice. Send the amount shown, including both decimal places, to the payment wallet in the app using the selected currency. The payment must reach the recipient before the five-minute countdown ends. Start a transfer only while the timer is running and the app shows a verified recipient.

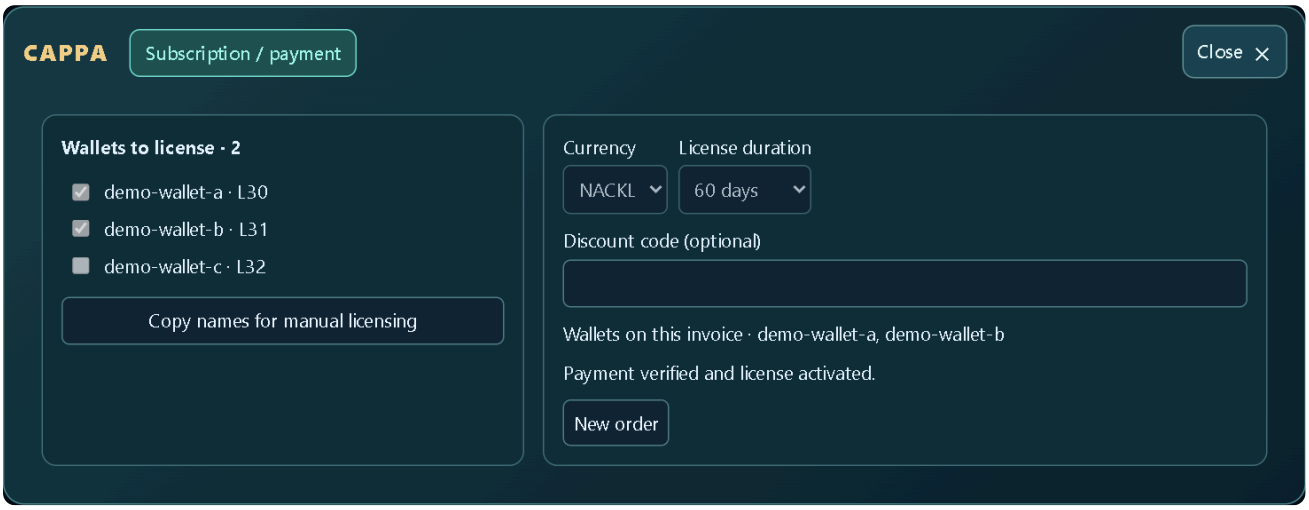

4. Tell the app you have paid

After sending the transfer, select "I've paid, activate license". Confirmation can take about 10 minutes or longer if the network is delayed. A payment received on time can still be verified after the countdown reaches zero. While confirmation is pending, do not send a second transfer.

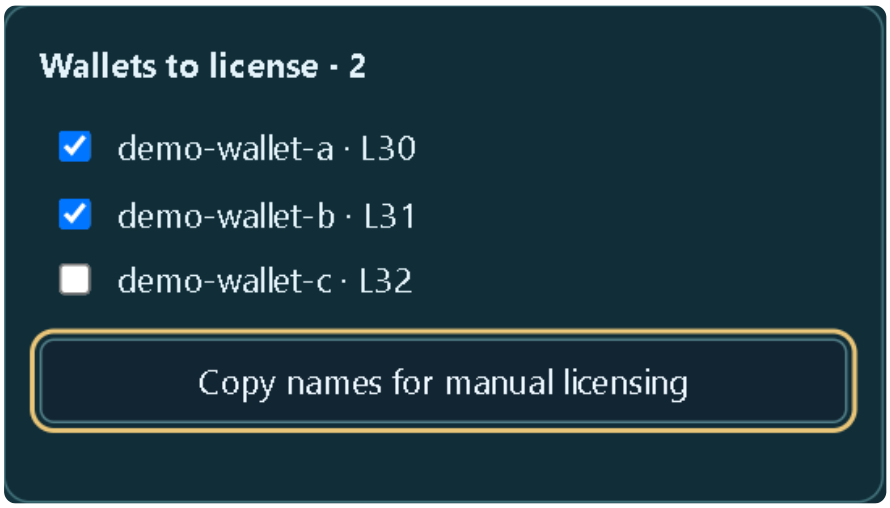

5. Check the confirmation

The invoice is complete when you see “Payment verified and license activated”. Check the license status and number of licensed wallets on the license card. The license is assigned by wallet name.

6. Request a manual license

Tick the wallets you want in “Subscription / payment”. Select “Copy names for manual licensing” and send the list to CAPPA. Share only the wallet names for the manual request.
